

Colonel Mark K. Jamison, U.S. Marine Corps

Colonel Mark K. Jamison began his duties on the U.S. Court of Military Commission Review on March 19, 2014, after being informally sworn in as an Associate Appellate Judge. He currently serves as an Appellate Judge for the U.S. Navy-Marine Corps Court of Criminal Appeals.

His past assignments include: Deputy Director, Judge Advocate Division, Headquarters, U.S. Marine Corps (HQMC); Staff Judge Advocate to Commanding General, Marine Corps Installations West; Officer-in-Charge, Legal Services Support Section, Camp Pendleton, California; Instructor, Criminal Law Department, The U.S. Army Judge Advocate General's School, Charlottesville, Virginia; Staff Judge Advocate to Commanding General, 1st Marine Logistics Group; Officer-in-Charge, Legal Services Support Team-Iraq and Officer-in-Charge, Legal Services Support Team Echo, Camp Pendleton, California; Appellate Government Counsel, Navy-Marine Corps Appellate Review Activity, Washington, DC; action officer, Military Law Branch, HQMC; Aide-de-Camp to the Navy Judge Advocate General; trial and defense counsel, 1st Marine Expeditionary Brigade, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

Colonel Jamison is a graduate of the U.S. Army War College (DEP) (2011), the U.S. Army JAG School Officer Graduate Course (LL.M., 2002), the U.S. Marine Corps Command and Staff College (non-resident) (2000), and the Amphibious Warfare School (1998). His civilian education includes the University of Nebraska-College of Law (J.D., 1990) and the University of Nebraska (B.A., 1987).