

Captain Eric Price, JAGC, U.S. Navy

Captain Eric Price was sworn in as an Appellate Judge on the U.S. Court of Military Commission Review on December 4, 2008. He has served on the U.S. Navy-Marine Corps Court of Criminal Appeals since August 2008. He previously served as Commanding Officer, Region Legal Service Office, Naval District Washington, and as a military prosecutor, defense counsel, and appellate defense counsel. His other assignments include: Executive Assistant and Special Counsel to the General Counsel of the Navy; Staff Judge Advocate to Commander, U.S. Naval Forces Central Command/U.S. FIFTH Fleet and Combined Forces Maritime Component Command in Manama, Bahrain; Commander, Carrier Group FIVE embarked in USS KITTY HAWK (CV 63), Yokosuka, Japan, and Commander, Naval Special Warfare Group TWO; Executive Officer, Naval Justice School; Navy JAG Corps Accessions Detailer; and Naval Legal Service Office Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines. A native of Fairmont, West Virginia, Captain Price received a Bachelor's Degree from West Virginia University (WVU), Juris Doctorate from the WVU College of Law, and Master of Laws from The Army Judge Advocate General's School, Charlottesville, VA.