Defense Motion to Compel the Government to Produce All Phone Bills Seized in the Taliban Embassy Raid and Related Documents

KHALID SHAIKH MOHAMMAD, WALID MUHAMMAD SALIH MUBARAK BIN 'ATTASH, RAMZI BIN AL SHIBH, ALI ABDUL-AZIZ ALI, MUSTAFA AHMED ADAM AL HAWSAWI

25 October 2017

1. Timeliness:

This filing is timely pursuant to RC 3.7(b) and R.M.C. 905(b); 906(a).

2. Relief Sought:

Mr. bin 'Atash requests that the Commission compel the Government to produce all phone bills seized in the February 2002 raid on the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, and all documents pertaining to them in any way, to including but not limited to their chain of custody, analysis, and follow-up investigations.

3. Overview:

In February of 2002 a raid by the United States was conducted on the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, Pakistan, in which many documents and pieces of evidence were seized. Specifically, phone bills were seized that linked the Taliban Embassy with various phone numbers across the United States. The seized telephone bills were Pakistani-issued telephone bills written in English. The seized phone bills documented 168 calls made from the Taliban Embassy to numbers inside the United States in the weeks before the September 11th attacks. The calls from the Taliban embassy to numbers in the United States stopped abruptly on September 10, 2001, and started up again on September 16, 2001.

On 16 September 2016, counsel for Mr. bin 'Atash submitted to the Government a discovery request, styled "DR-268-WBA," seeking the production of all phone bills seized in the February 2002 raid on the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, all documents pertaining to them in any way including, but not limited to, their chain of custody, analysis, and follow-up investigations.

On 29 September 2016 the Government responded, claiming it was conducting its due diligence regarding this request and that it would respond accordingly upon completion of its due diligence. On 17 October 2017, once aware that a motion to compel was forthcoming, the Prosecution provided approximately 120 pages of largely illegible records and advised that this would be its first and final production of documents responsive to DR-268-WBA. Defense counsel replied with a request for legible copies. As of the date of this filing, the defense has not received from the Government any legible or usable discovery responsive to this discovery request.

The defense is entitled to all materials in the Government's possession, or in the possession of other Government agencies, that are material to the preparation of the defense. The materials obtained from the raid of the Taliban embassy are material to the preparation of the defense because they tie directly to the crimes charged as they may indicate that the Taliban, the governing body of Afghanistan that willingly harbored Usama bin Laden, was communicating directly with individuals in the U.S. in the weeks prior to the September 11th attacks. On September 10th this communication mysteriously ceased. Defense counsel have an ethical duty to conduct a thorough and independent investigation into the issues of both guilt and sentence. The Defense cannot assume that any facts asserted by the Government are true and must conduct their own investigation into what happened on September 11th, including, e.g. who was involved in its planning, financing, and aftermath.

The material that was seized potentially implicates other individuals and/or foreign governments in the attacks of September 11th. This information is critical to rebutting the jurisdiction of this Commission, negating evidence of guilt, and presenting mitigating evidence for sentencing. Because the material that was seized will assist defense counsel in realizing their constitutional and ethical duty to conduct a thorough investigation, develop witnesses, gather mitigation evidence, and effectively represent Mr. bin 'Atash, this Commission must order that the Government produce it.

4. Burden of Proof:

As the moving party, the defense bears the burden of persuasion; the standard of proof is a preponderance of the evidence. R.M.C. 905(c)(1).

5. Facts:

a. In February of 2002 a raid by the United States was conducted on the Taliban Embassy in

b. During the raid many documents and pieces of evidence were seized and taken to the FBI's headquarters in Washington D.C. Specifically, phone bills were seized that linked the Taliban

Embassy with various phone numbers across the United States.<sup>2</sup>

c. The seized telephone bills were Pakistani-issued telephone bills written in English. They contained records of 168 calls made from the Taliban Embassy to phone numbers inside the United States in the weeks before the September 11th attacks. The calls from the Taliban embassy to numbers in the United States stopped abruptly on September 10, 2001 and started again on

- d. The original documents from the raid were stored at the FBI's headquarters in Washington D.C. The boxes, however, were never opened or analyzed by anyone in the U.S. Government.<sup>4</sup>
- e. On Page 127 of Mr. Kiriakou's book he has a picture of the records that were seized from the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, Pakistan:

One of the vans stuffed with material taken from the Taliban "embassy" in Peshawar, Pakistan, after the raid there led by Tommy McHale. It was in this material that he found phone bills showing dozens of calls from the Taliban to numbers across the United States in the weeks before the September 11, 2001, attacks.

f. On 16 September 2016 counsel for Mr. bin 'Atash submitted a discovery request, styled as DR-268-WBA, to the Government seeking:

[A]ll phone bills seized in the February 2002 Taliban Embassy Peshawar raid described by Mr. Kiriakou, and all documents pertaining to them in any way, to include their chain of custody, analysis, and follow-up investigations. Any information connecting the Taliban Government of Afghanistan to the 9/11 hijackers or others in the United States and any support networks in the United States is discoverable to Mr. bin 'Atash's defense and may lead to exculpatory or favorable evidence and/or evidence in mitigation.

(Attach. B at 1).

g. On 29 September 2016, the Government responded stating "[t]he Prosecution is conducting its due diligence regarding this request and will respond accordingly upon completion of its due diligence." (Attach. C at 2).

h. On 14 October 2016, the Government responded again stating that it was conducting their due diligence. (Attach. D at 2).

i. On 14 October 2017, the Government informed defense counsel that it intended to disclose the requested documents, but that it was awaiting classification review and the discovery may be subject to the M.C.R.E. 505(h) substitution process.

j. On 17 October 2017, the Government notified defense counsel of a discovery production responsive to DR-268-WBA and noted that it would be its first and final production. (Attach. E at 2). The discovery production consists of approximately 120 pages of largely illegible and unusable records. (Attach. F).

k. On 18 October 2017, defense counsel contacted the Government and requested legible copies of the discovery production. As of the date of this filing, the Government has not responded. (Attach. G).

6. Law and Argument:

The requested documents contain records of calls from the Taliban embassy to numbers inside the United States just prior to and after the attacks of September 11, 2001 (the very crime Mr. bin 'Atash is alleged to have committed). That the Taliban embassy is calling inside the United States and mysteriously stops calling the day before September 11th indicates the possibility that the callers knew something about the September 11th attacks. If these were innocent calls, certainly additional calls would be made on or in the immediate aftermath of September 11th to inquire of the well-being of the person called and discuss the world-altering events that had occurred.

"Because we are dealing with an inevitably imprecise standard, and because the significance of an item of evidence can seldom be predicted accurately until the entire record is complete, the prudent prosecutor will resolve doubtful questions in favor of disclosure." United States v. Agurs, 427 U.S. 97, 108 (1976). The requested discovery meets the standard for production in R.M.C. 701(c) because they are material to the preparation of the defense and assist the defense in fulfilling their ethical duty to investigate and support their theories of defense.<sup>5</sup>

I. THE GOVERNMENT MUST PRODUCE ALL EVIDENCE MATERIAL TO THE PREPARATION OF THE DEFENSE IN THEIR POSSESSION OR THAT IS KNOWN OR REASONABLY MAY BE KNOWN TO THEM.

Every accused defendant has a right to a robust factual record, and to obtain witnesses and evidence to present a complete defense. Washington v. Texas, 388 U.S. 14, 19 (1967); 10 U.S.C. § 949j(a)(1)(A) (2012). Mr. bin 'Atash's right to a complete defense includes the right to obtain all evidence against him, to receive any incriminating statements purported to be by him or by his co-accused, to review any exculpatory information relating to him or his co-accused, to receive and to use any mitigating evidence, and to identify and reveal any outrageous government conduct.

In the Military Commissions Act of 2009, Congress specifically and consciously recognized the importance of discovery and production when it directed that "[t]he opportunity to obtain witnesses and evidence shall be comparable to the opportunity available to a criminal defendant in a court of the United States under article III of the Constitution." 10 U.S.C. § 949j. Although often confused, pretrial discovery is distinct from the production of witnesses and evidence for use at trial. When it comes to the examination of documents in discovery, rather than the production of documents for use at trial, both article III and military courts have consistently applied a "materiality" rather than relevance or admissibility standard. R.M.C. 701(c)(1)-(3); Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(E) (permitting the examination of documents "material" to the preparation of the defense); Lockett v. Ohio, 438 U.S. 586, 604 (1978) (providing that a capital defendant is entitled to obtain evidence that is "material either to guilt or to punishment").

Trial counsel must produce any evidence in possession of the Government known by trial counsel, or may be known through the exercise of due diligence, which is material to the preparation of the defense or is intended for use by trial counsel as evidence in their case-in-chief. R.M.C. 701(c). The standard for what is discoverable is broad, liberal, and is "not focused solely upon evidence known to be admissible at trial." United States v. Roberts, 59 M.J. 323, 325 (C.A.A.F. 2004) (discussing the Rule for Courts Martial 701 which the Rule for Military Commission 701 was based). The Government must also produce to the Defense, without being asked, all tangible objects or pieces of information that are exculpatory to the defense, impeach the credibility of a Government witness, or reduce the punishment of Mr. bin 'Atash. R.M.C. 701(e)(1)-(3); Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83, 87-90 (1963). Mr. bin 'Atash is entitled to the phone bills seized in the February 2002 raid on the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, and other documents requested, because they are material to the preparation of the defense. R.M.C. 701(c).

II. THE SEIZED RAID EVIDENCE IS MATERIAL TO THE PREPARATION OF THE DEFENSE BECAUSE DEFENSE COUNSEL HAVE A DUTY TO INVESTIGATE WHETHER A STATE ACTOR WAS INVOLVED IN THE ATTACKS OF SEPTEMBER 11.

The evidence seized from the Taliban embassy is material to the preparation of the defense because it enables defense counsel to investigate the crimes with which Mr. bin 'Atash is charged. The evidence sought is relevant to various theories of defense.

A. Defense Counsel is Ethically Required to Investigate the Prosecution's Case in Chief and the Alleged Criminal Conduct.

Defense counsel "at every stage have an obligation to conduct thorough and independent investigation relating to the issues of both guilt and penalty. At every stage of the proceedings, defense counsel have a duty to investigate the case thoroughly. The duty is intensified (as are many duties) by the unique nature of the death penalty." American Bar Association, Guidelines for the Appointment and Performance of Defense Counsel in Death Penalty Cases, 31 Hofstra L. Rev. 913, 1015 (2003), Guideline 10.7 ("ABA Guidelines") (recognized by the Supreme Court as "well-defined norms" in Wiggins v. Smith, 539 U.S. 510, 524 (2003)); see also Powell v. Alabama, 287 U.S. 45, 57 (1932) (describing "thorough-going investigation" as "vitally important"); ABA Standards for Criminal Justice: Defense Function §§ 4-4.1, 4-6.1 (3d ed. 1993); Nat'l Legal Aid & Defender Ass'n, Performance Guidelines for Criminal Defense Representation, Guideline 4.1 (1997); Randy Hertz & James S. Liebman, Federal Habeas Corpus Practice and Procedure § 11.2(a), 489 n.41 (4th ed. 2001) (discussing duty to conduct full investigation of prior proceedings).

The United States Supreme Court has repeatedly emphasized that the Sixth Amendment right to effective representation demands, in a capital case, the thorough investigation and development of mitigating circumstances; a defense counsel's failure to conduct such an investigation renders him ineffective. See Rompilla v. Beard, 545 U.S. 374, 387-388 (2005);

Wiggins, 539 U.S. at 521-523; Williams v. Taylor, 529 U.S. 362, 395-397 (2000). With respect to the investigation itself, counsel "has a duty to make reasonable investigations or to make a reasonable decision that makes particular investigations unnecessary." Strickland v. Washington, 466 U.S. 668, 690 (1984).

Since the death penalty differs from all other penalties in its finality, defense counsel in a capital case must respond to this difference by making extraordinary efforts on behalf of the accused, "endeavor[ing], within the bounds of law and ethics, to leave no stone unturned in the investigation and defense of a capital client." ABA Standards for Criminal Justice: Defense Function §§ 4-4.2, Commentary (emphasis added). Given the finality of the punishment, defense counsel are ethically and legally required to do a full investigation into the alleged conduct of Mr.

bin 'Atash. Counsel cannot take the Government's word as to what happened and must fully investigate the crime to uncover any exculpatory or mitigating evidence.

Taliban embassy phone records are material to the preparation of the defense because defense counsel are required to conduct a thorough investigation—even if the Government did not.

If the records contain links between Taliban actors and the 9/11 attacks, such evidence rebuts the Government's claim that the attacks do not involve state action. If the evidence does not implicate a state actor, the failure of the United States to perform its own investigation is evidence of a faulty investigation by the Government. Counsel must investigate the charges against Mr. bin 'Atash

from the ground up and take nothing in the Prosecution's case as implicitly true. See ABA Guideline 10.7.

In addition, the defense must independently investigate evidence which supports theories of defense that refute the prosecution's allegations, reduce the degree of guilt, or mitigate a death sentence. The requested records were seized from a hostile Government that supported Al Qaeda, the group of which Mr. bin 'Atash is alleged to be a member and the reason the Government contends he should be considered an "unprivileged enemy belligerent." The records document phone calls from the Taliban to several numbers across the U.S. in the time period before the September 11th attacks. The investigative potential of these calls is described in the book The Reluctant Spy:

Apparently, the FBI never opened the boxes [of the seized raid material] because they figured they didn't have the language capabilities to translate them from Pashto, Dari, Urdu, and the other languages of Afghanistan. Still later, Esposito reported, the message from the FBI was that the information was too old to mean much.

How's that? Too old to mean much? A file in English of calls made prior to September 11, 2001, to the United States? Resumed on September 16? From the embassy of the government that treated Osama bin Laden as an honored guest? Maybe they were worthless, but McHale, for one, seriously doubted it. In any event, how could the FBI know that without reading them? Especially the file in English.

John Kiriakou, Reluctant Spy: My Secret Life in the CIA's War on Terror 127 (2012) (emphasis in original).

That the records were not investigated is material the preparation of the defense. The Government alleges Mr. bin 'Atash's involvement in the charged conduct, focusing solely on their theories and disregarding any evidence to the contrary. When the United States, the prosecuting party, fails to examine an important piece of evidence, such failures demonstrate that the Government's investigation is faulty and not worthy of belief by the panel.

Demonstrating the Government's faulty investigation and failure to follow up on potential leads is particularly important here because of the Government's reliance on torture as part of its investigation. Instead of following up on hard evidence it seized from the Taliban, the Government chose to detain and torture Mr. bin 'Atash from 2003 through 2006. During those same years, boxes of documents seized from the Taliban in 2002 sat in an FBI warehouse without being investigated. This demonstrates that the Government was not interested in learning incontrovertible facts about what parties planned the attacks on September 11th.

B. The Requested Discovery is Material to Mr. bin 'Atash's Ex Parte Theory of Defense.

The requested discovery is relevant to theories of defense laid out in AE 275C(WBA) and AE 275C(WBA Sup), an ex parte filing intended to provide the Commission some of Mr. bin 'Atash's possible defenses. An ex parte attachment to this Motion to Compel provides the Commission with the theories of defense applicable here. (Attach. H at 1-2).

C. The Requested Discovery is Material to Disputing the Commission's Jurisdiction.

The phone records provide a connection between a foreign government and the September 11th attacks. A foreign government's involvement in the attacks has important ramifications for the jurisdiction of the Commission. The Commission's jurisdiction over an accused under the MCA is predicated on the accused being categorized as an "unprivileged enemy belligerent." 10 U.S.C. §§ 948a(7); 948c. An "unprivileged enemy belligerent" is defined as:

- (7) Unprivileged enemy belligerent.--The term "unprivileged enemy belligerent" means an individual (other than a privileged belligerent) who--
  - (A) has engaged in hostilities against the United States or its coalition partners;
  - (B) has purposefully and materially supported hostilities against the United States or its coalition partners; or
  - (C) was a part of al Qaeda at the time of the alleged offense under this chapter.

10 U.S.C. § 948a(7). A "privileged belligerent" is defined as "an individual belonging to one of the eight categories enumerated in Article 4 of the Geneva Convention Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War. 10 U.S.C. § 948a(6). Of the eight categories enumerated under Article 4, there are several that are relevant to the material requested by Mr. bin 'Atash in DR-268-WBA:

- (1) Members of the armed forces of a Party to the conflict, as well as members of militias or volunteer corps forming part of such armed forces.
- (2) Members of other militias and members of other volunteer corps, including those of organized resistance movements, belonging to a Party to the conflict and operating in or outside their own territory, even if this territory is occupied, provided that such militias or volunteer corps, including such organized resistance movements, fulfil the following conditions:
  - (a) that of being commanded by a person responsible for his subordinates;
  - (b) that of having a fixed distinctive sign recognizable at a distance;
  - (c) that of carrying arms openly;
  - (d) that of conducting their operations in accordance with the laws and customs of war.
- (3) Members of regular armed forces who profess allegiance to a government or an authority not recognized by the Detaining Power.

(6) Inhabitants of a non-occupied territory, who on the approach of the enemy spontaneously take up arms to resist the invading forces, without having had time to form themselves into regular armed units, provided they carry arms openly and respect the laws and customs of war.

Geneva Convention (III) Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War ("GPW"), Aug. 12, 1949, [1955] 6 U.S.T. 3316. To prove the Commission has jurisdiction over Mr. bin 'Atash, the Government has the burden of proving that he does not fall into one of the enumerated categories under Article 4 of the GPW and that Mr. bin 'Atash is an "unprivileged enemy belligerent." R.M.C. 905(c)(2)(B).

The materials seized from the Taliban embassy provide a potential connection between the September 11th attacks and a foreign government's involvement. Any evidence that shows a foreign government's involvement has the potential to take away the Commission's jurisdiction, which is material to the preparation of the defense.

Mr. bin 'Atash requests that this Commission compel the Government to produce all phone records seized in the February 2002 raid on the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, all documents pertaining to them in any way, including but not limited to their chain of custody, analysis, and follow-up investigations. Because this information will assist defense counsel for Mr. bin 'Atash in realizing their constitutional and ethical duty to investigate the case, rebut the allegations of the Government, and provide evidence that may refute the Commission's jurisdiction, this Commission must order the Government to produce it.

According to former CIA agent John Kiriakou, "The FBI team in Pakistan was alerted and got copies of the phone bills; all the originals went to FBI headquarters in Washington." Id. at 127.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF PROSECUTOR OF MILITARY COMMISSIONS
1610 DEFENSE PENTAGON
WASHINGTON, DC 20301-1610

17 October 2017

MEMORANDUM FOR Defense Counsel for Mr. bin 'Attash

SUBJECT: Prosecution Response to 16 September 2016 Request for Discovery (DR-268-WBA)

1. The Prosecution received the Defense request for discovery on 16 September 2016. The Prosecution hereby responds to the Defense request, below, in bold:

2. The Defense asserts:

In his book Reluctant Spy: My Secret Life in the CIA's War on Terror (Skyhorse Publishing, 2012), John Kiriakou describes a raid on the Taliban Embassy in Peshawar, Pakistan, in February of 2002. Documents, specifically phone bills, were seized that linked that Taliban embassy with various telephone numbers across the United States. The seized telephone bills were Pakistani-issued telephone bills written in English. The seized phone bills documented 168 calls made from the Taliban Embassy to numbers inside the United States, numbers registered all over the United States, in the weeks before the 9/11 attacks. The calls from the Taliban embassy to numbers in the United States stopped abruptly on September 10, 2001 and started up again on September 16, 2001. According to former CIA agent John Kiriakou, "The FBI team in Pakistan was alerted and got copies of the phone bills; all the originals went to FBI headquarters in Washington." Id. at 127.

3. The Defense requests:

All phone bills seized in the February 2002 Taliban Embassy Peshawar raid described by Mr. Kiriakou, and all documents pertaining to them in any way, to include their chain of custody, analysis, and follow-up investigations. Any information connecting the Taliban Government of Afghanistan to the the 9/11 hijackers or others in the United States and any support networks in the United States is discoverable to Mr. bin 'Atash's defense and may lead to exculpatory or favorable evidence and/or evidence in mitigation.

The Prosecution initially responded to the request on 14 October 2016 indicating that it was conducting its due diligence regarding the request and would respond accordingly upon completion of its due diligence.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Prosecution does not concede any of the documents requested are discoverable pursuant to R.M.C. 701, in an effort to expedite litigation, attached please find the phone bills and their chain of custody documents, which are responsive to your request.

Regarding the portion of your request seeking all documents pertaining to the phone bills requested and any analysis and follow up investigations regarding the same, the Defense does not cite to any specific theory of relevance that would reasonably warrant production of the requested information, nor does the Defense request appear to be material to the preparation of the defense, pursuant to R.M.C. 701.

Respectfully submitted,
