TO THE HONORABLE, THE JUDGES OF THE UNITED STATES COURT OF MILITARY COMMISSION REVIEW

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On March 27, 2015, Appellant United States of America filed a second notice of appeal in United States v. Al Nashiri. On April 2, 2015, Appellee Abd Al Rahim Hussayn Muhammad Al Nashiri asked the Court to suspend the briefing schedule for this interlocutory appeal. Appellant consented to suspending the briefing schedule until the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit lifted the stay of the U.S.C.M.C.R. proceedings. The D.C. Circuit had stayed the proceedings while it considered Appellee's petition for a writ of mandamus and prohibition to the U.S.C.M.C.R. alleging that military judges are assigned to the U.S.C.M.C.R. in violation of the Appointments Clause and cannot be freely removed in violation of the Commander-in-Chief Clause of the Constitution. Order, In re Al-Nashiri, No. 14-1203 (D.C. Cir. Nov. 12, 2014), ECF No. 1521946.

On June 23, 2015, the D.C. Circuit denied the petition and dissolved the stay. In re Al-Nashiri, No. 14-1203, 2015 WL 3851966, at *13 (D.C. Cir. June 23, 2015); Order, In re Al-

Nashiri, No. 14-1203 (D.C. Cir. June 23, 2015), ECF No. 1559091. The court reasoned it would be inappropriate to issue the writ because Appellee “can adequately raise his constitutional challenges on appeal from final judgment.” In re Al-Nashiri, 2015 WL 3851966, at *1. In doing so, the D.C. Circuit did not resolve questions raised by the Appointments Clause challenge, but it concluded that “the President and the Senate could decide to put to rest any Appointments Clause questions regarding the CMCR’s military judges . . . by re-nominating and re-confirming the military judges to be CMCR judges.” Id. at *13. According to the D.C. Circuit, “[t]aking these steps—whether or not they are constitutionally required—would answer any Appointments Clause challenge to the CMCR.” Id.

While not conceding that these steps are constitutionally required, Appellant moved this Court to stay the proceedings as it explores options for re-nomination and re-confirmation of the military judges as U.S.C.M.C.R. judges. Unopposed Motion to Stay the Proceedings, United States v. Al Nashiri (U.S.C.M.C.R. June 26, 2015). The Court granted the motion and ordered Appellant to apprise the Court of its efforts and to “file a motion every 30 days, providing the status of this action and whether the parties request continuation of the suspension of litigation.” Order, Al Nashiri (U.S.C.M.C.R. June 26, 2015). Appellant timely files this motion in accordance with the Court’s June 26, 2015 Order and respectfully requests that the Court maintain the stay as it seeks re-nomination and re-confirmation of the military judges as U.S.C.M.C.R. judges. Appellant will file an additional update within the next thirty days.

STATUS UPDATE

Immediately after the D.C. Circuit concluded the President and the Senate could put to rest any Appointments Clause questions by re-nominating and re-confirming the military judges to be U.S.C.M.C.R. judges, Appellant—while not conceding that these steps are constitutionally required—began working diligently to explore options for such re-nomination and re-confirmation. As a result of this work, the Department of Defense has completed coordination with the Department of Justice on how best to proceed, and, in accordance with the agreed-upon course of action, the nomination package for the military judges has been prepared and is in final coordination within the Department of Defense to identify additional judges expected to join the Court in the coming year. Ultimately, the package will be presented to the Secretary of Defense so that he may assign those incoming military judges to be judges on the U.S.C.M.C.R. under 10 U.S.C. § 950f. From there, the nomination of all of the judges is expected to proceed on to the President for his consideration of appointment of those judges as U.S.C.M.C.R. judges and then on to the Senate Armed Services Committee for the Senate's advice and consent. To permit the re-nomination and re-confirmation process that is well underway to continue, Appellant respectfully requests that the Court maintain the stay. Appellant will update the Court, as directed in its June 26, 2015 Order, no later than August 21, 2015.

Respectfully submitted,

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF DEFENSE COUNSEL

26 August 2015

From: Mr. Richard Kammen, Learned Defense Counsel
To: Office of the Chief Defense Counsel, Office of Military Commissions
Subj: IMPACT OF POTENTIAL WITHDRAWAL OF CDR MIZER AS DETAILED DEFENSE COUNSEL TO MR. AL-NASHIRI
Ref: (a) R.M.C. 502(d)(7)
(b) R.M.C. 505(d)
(c) CDR Mizer Application for Withdrawal of Detailed Counsel of 15 Aug 15

1. In accordance with references (a) and (b), I cannot positively endorse CDR Mizer's request for withdrawal, reference (c). This loss would have an enormous negative impact on Mr. Al-Nashiri's defense.

2. As background, the OCDC began representing Mr. Al-Nashiri in 2008. CDR Stephen Reyes was the lead military lawyer. Ms. Nancy Hollander and I were asked by the ACLU to assist the military team. The case was abated from 2009 until mid 2011 but we maintained an attorney client relationship with Mr. Al-Nashiri during that time. The government referred charges against Mr. Al-Nashiri in 2011, and at that time CDR Stephen Reyes was assigned at the detailed military counsel. I more formally joined the team pursuant to the Military Commission Act of 2009, which required capital cases include qualified learned defense counsel. Ms. Hollander was a member of the team serving pro bono. CDR Reyes served as the senior military counsel and served as the administrative day-day lead for team Al-Nashiri. The discovery portion and initial stages of pre-trial litigation have become lengthy endeavors, and when CDR Reyes received transfer orders in 2013, the team was continuing to identify and litigate substantive legal issues that would impact pre-trial litigation and the trial itself. At about the same time CDR Reyes transferred, my ability to work on the Al Nashiri case was limited as trial had begun on a highly publicized and important murder case in Indiana, the trial of which took over three months. CDR Mizer was detailed to the Al-Nashiri team in July 2013, at a time when the team desperately needed an experienced attorney to replace CDR Reyes. CDR Mizer created an immediate impact on our ability to defend Mr. Al-Nashiri, which he has continued to this day.

3. The withdrawal of CDR Mizer would create a dangerous lack of experience on the defense team in a capital case, particularly in a system as novel as the newly created Military Commissions and one that requires multiple experienced trial counsel. When CDR Mizer joined the Al-Nashiri team in July 2103, he immediately became an integral team member and leader on all legal matters. CDR Mizer had previously served as defense counsel in U.S. v. Hamdan, a groundbreaking Commission case, and had a wealth of knowledge and ideas for how to proceed in this case. While other military counsel were assigned to the team, they lacked experience on complex litigation and national security cases and CDR Mizer filled this void. CDR Mizer has played a major role on many important motions filed and at every hearing in this case. To date, he is the only military counsel assigned to the team with significant trial experience in trial before Military Commission.

4. CDR Mizer's loss would not only create a terrible void in experience level, it would have a grave adverse impact on the overall attorney-client relationship between Mr. Al-Nashiri and his remaining counsel. CDR Mizer took a very visible lead role, and immediately developed a strong attorney-client relationship with Mr. Al-Nashiri. For undisclosed reasons, Ms. Hollander's SAP was revoked and after a hearing on the matter, the Commission refused to inquire as to the reasons for the revocation or otherwise intervene. Accordingly her relationship with the client has been involuntarily severed. Within the past six months, the defense team for Mr. Al-Nashiri has undergone significant turnover. Three detailed counsel, all with long-standing attorney-client relationships, have been transferred from the case. While Mr. Al-Nashiri has agreed to their withdrawal, this has caused significant issues in our team's overall attorney-client relationship. If CDR Mizer's request to withdraw from this case is granted, only two counsel will even be able to meet with Mr. Al-Nashiri- myself and LCDR Pollio, a newly detailed counsel who has represented Mr. Al-Nashiri in only one hearing. Mr. Al-Nashiri understandably feels a strong connection with CDR Mizer and knows that he plays a large role in his defense. He strongly opposes CDR Mizer's withdrawal as reflected in his refusal to sign the form regarding CDR Mizer's withdrawal.

5. Finally, CDR Mizer's withdrawal would harm the defense team's core knowledge of the facts and history behind the charges Mr. Al-Nashiri faces. Other than myself, CDR Mizer is the team member with the most institutional knowledge of the litigation history of the case. CDR Mizer is one of the two remaining members of the defense team that has a strong command of the facts and discovery of this case. In addition to the loss Ms. Hollander, three detailed attorneys, other key positions of the defense team have experienced significant losses. Two support counsel have been transferred, and we also anticipate the loss of one of our senior paralegals within the next few months. Over our objections, we have also lost our senior investigator, LtCol [REDACTED] who has been part of the defense since 2013. New members of the defense are diligently working to learn over 300,000 of discovery and nearly 4 years of litigation history. CDR Mizer's loss would represent an irreplaceable loss of knowledge of the facts supporting the defense's case on the merits and mitigation.

6. While I understand that CDR Mizer has received de-mobilization orders, for the forgoing reasons, I cannot positively endorse CDR Mizer's withdrawal request. I join Mr. Al-Nashiri's opposition to CDR Mizer's withdrawal.

Respectfully Submitted,

MEMORANDUM FOR COMMANDER BRIAN MIZER, USNR

Subj: Application for Withdrawal as Detailed Defense Counsel

1. I have reviewed your request to withdraw as detailed defense counsel for Mr. Abdul Rahim Al-Nashiri, Mr. Kammen's response to that request, the applicable statute and regulations governing military commissions, the Department of the Navy's Rules for Professional Responsibility, and relevant case law. After careful reflection, your request to withdraw as detailed defense counsel for Mr Al-Nashirr is denied. Accordingly, I will be requesting that your demobilization orders be cancelled to allow you to continue to serve as Mr. Al-Nashiri's detailed defense counsel.¹

2. Rule for Military Commission (R.M.C.) 505(d)(2)(B) states in relevant part:

After an attorney-client relationship has been formed between the accused and detailed defense counsel ..., an authority competent to detail such counsel² may excuse or change such counsel only: (i) Upon request of the accused or application for withdrawal by such counsel; or (ii) For other good cause shown on the record.

3. Rule 1.16b of our governing Rules for Professional Responsibility provides that a counsel's request to withdraw from representation may be approved "if withdrawal can be accomplished without adverse effect on the interests of the client." JAGINST 5803.1E, Rule 1.16b.

4. While a military justice case, I find that Court Appeals for the Armed Forces' (CAAF) guidance on severance under the analogous Rule for Courts-Martial 505 instructive on this issue. In United States v. Hutchins, 69 M.J. 282 (C.A.A.F. 2011), CAAF explained that the individual circumstances of a particular case, to include the interests associated with cancelling or postponing a separation date and the role of a particular member of the defense team, may warrant a finding that the end of counsel's active duty requirement is insufficient by itself to establish good cause. Id., at 291. Such is the case here. Your departure at this stage will have a

¹ You certainly cannot effectively serve as a detailed defense counsel for a capital commission while assigned outside the Military Commissions Defense Organization holding down a full-time GS position.

² R.M.C. 503(c) empowers the Secretary of Defense to prescribe regulations for the persons who are authorized to detail defense counsel to a military commission. The Secretary has used Rules for Trial by Military Commission (R.T.M.C) to prescribe these regulations. Under R.T.M.C. 9-1, the Chief Defense Counsel for Military Commissions (CDC) is the only person authorized to detail defense counsel to a military commission. Therefore, under R.M.C. 505(d), the CDC is the only person authorized to excuse a defense counsel from a military commission. Of course, under R.M.C. 901, a military judge may disqualify a defense counsel from a military commission when that counsel has acted in a disqualifying capacity. The judge's finding would require the CDC to then excuse that counsel under R.M.C. 505 (d)(2)(B)(ii). Whenever there is a change of counsel, the military judge is required under R.M.C. 813(c) to ensure the record reflects the change of counsel and the reason for it.

devastating impact on the defense team as a whole and Mr. Al-Nashiri personally. Even though trial has not yet begun, your involvement in Mr. Al-Nashiri's defense is well beyond the initial stages. Capital charges have been referred and a great deal of time and effort has gone into case preparation and the development of the case strategy. Further, excusing you as detailed defense counsel would leave a significant void in the level of skill and experience needed to carry on Mr. Al-Nashiri's defense. You have a unique understanding, developed over a period of years, of the particular litigation history and the facts behind the charges Mr. Al-Nashiri faces. Additionally, the skill and talent you have demonstrated over the years as a defense attorney has instilled in your client a great deal of trust and confidence. As a demonstration of the significant trust Mr. Al-Nashiri places in you – you are the first military counsel that he has objected to departing from his defense team. His objection to your departure is of particular importance to me as client rapport is of particular significance in capital litigation generally and in Commissions cases specifically.³

5. I have also considered a recent ruling in United States v. Abd al Hadi al-Iraqi, where the Commission was faced with the similar issue of determining under what circumstances it is appropriate to sever the attorney-client relationship. In reaching his decision, the military judge used Rule 1.16 as a guide to explore whether the excusal of the original detailed defense counsel three years prior to the referral of charges would have a material adverse effect on the interests of the client. As part of its analysis, the Commission emphasized that the charges had not yet been preferred at the time of the excusal; that discovery had not yet been provided; and that the detailed defense counsel was replaced with a qualified and experienced defense counsel. For these reasons, the Commission concluded, in that non-capital case, that the withdrawal had no material adverse effect on the interests of the client. By contrast, you have been the lead military counsel post-referral of capital charges against Mr. Al-Nashiri, you have been actively involved with the analysis of hundreds of thousands of pages of discovery, interviewed hundreds of witnesses, actively developed a defense strategy and have been directly involved with significant litigation over the past four years. In short, unlike, the defense counsel at issue in the al-Iraqi Commission, you are an essential part of the foundation upon which this defense rests and to lose you now would have a material adverse effect on the interests of Mr. Al-Nashiri.

6. Based on the above, I deny your request for withdrawal under R.M.C. 505(d)(2)(B)(i) and I find that good cause does not exist to otherwise excuse you under R.M.C. 505(d)(2)(B)(ii).

7. Please let me know if you have any questions regarding this issue.
